

Homework:

Bring in a newspaper headline or a picture that depicts man's ability to be inhumane. Think of wars, mass killings, terrorism, torture, and so forth.

Headline:

If you can't find a headline, write one. The event needs to have actually happened. The headline should have the name of the inhumane event. Make it large enough for the class to read once it is posted on the classroom bulletin board. Follow examples that were discussed in class.

Picture:

Can be black and white or color. Make sure it is appropriate for the classroom. See me if you have questions.
